

Application for Computer Science Proficiency Examination

Name _____

Stony Brook ID Number _____

Email address _____

The Computer Science Department uses proficiency examinations for the purpose of transfer course evaluation. Students who wish to get transfer credit for any of the following core computer science courses must take and pass the relevant proficiency examinations: CSE 113, 114, 213, and 214. Transfer credit is only given for equivalent courses that were completed elsewhere with a grade of C or higher.

The examinations are offered at the beginning of each fall and spring semester. Detailed information about the examinations, including sample problems with solutions, can be obtained from the Computer Science Undergraduate Office or the departmental website at www.cs.sunysb.edu/undergrad/csprogram/ProficiencyExams.html.

If you wish to take a proficiency examination, list below the course(s) for which you would like to get transfer credit. Indicate where you have taken a similar course(s) and which grade(s) you received.

	Similar course	Institution	Grade
CSE 113	_____	_____	_____
CSE 114	_____	_____	_____
CSE 213	_____	_____	_____
CSE 214	_____	_____	_____

Attach a copy of your transcript(s) and submit to the Computer Science Undergraduate Secretary.

Applications are accepted up to one day before the scheduled examination day. The examination results are used for departmental purposes only and are not reflected on your academic record.
